

This book is designed to give students of commerce or business sufficient legal knowledge and analytical skills to enable them to cope with, and to make decisions regarding, the routine legal problems which they will encounter in their future employment. It provides material that is designed to be easy to understand as it is broken down into shorter sections for ease of reference. Each chapter contains a list of the important points covered, a summary of the purpose of each chapter, a presentation of the related rules of law, a progress test and a list of the important cases and/or statutes referred to in each chapter. The book is designed to be relevant to students taking any introductory law course in third level education, but particularly those sitting the following examinations: IATI Foundation Business Law; AAT Intermediate Business Law; ACCA Level 1 Law; ICAI Prof. 1 Law; CIMA Stage 1 Law; ICPA Formation 1 General Principles of Law; ICSA Part 1 Introduction to Irish Law; and ICSA Part 2 Irish Business Law.
