

You would think that having ADHD in itself would be enough to deal with. Add living in a dysfunctional family and religious indoctrination and you have a recipe one half baked banana with no icing. Humour is simply a funny way of being serious and I found it easier to try and look at the funny side of things than to take things too seriously most of the time. Despite what the critics may say humour really is our saving grace, and it helps keep us psychologically healthy... you only live once and when I die, I want to go peacefully like my Grandfather did, in his sleep – not screaming, like the passengers in his car.
