

Challenging the long-held belief that doing something quickly compromises quality, this is an invaluable guide to improving the efficiency of your thinking to create more time for yourself. Every day business owners, managers, and leaders are expected to deliver more and more with fewer people, smaller budgets, and "crucially" less time. Lack of time to make decisions has become the most stressful part of life for many business people. A time-poor, fast-moving world needs a new approach. This breakthrough book explains how to achieve amazing results in time-pressure situations using speed thinking—a practical thinking system that will enable individuals or teams to perform effectively as deadlines hit. Practitioners of the system can create powerful new ideas, make better decisions faster, and solve problems in literally minutes. Applied readily to everyday problem-solving, idea generation or decision-making, this system can be used to better conduct meetings, manage projects, or service customers, and will appeal to anyone who is looking for a new way to do more with less.
