

Have you ever wondered . . . Â· If there is more to the Christian life than you are living? Â· Why todayâ€™s spiritual revivals produce so little quality? Â· What is really the purpose and mission of the Church? Â· Does the truth actually matter? Transforming the Believer approaches these questions and more with the end view in mind, the purposes of God. We have all heard of what is wrong, but what is right? Follow the steps God uses to make bread and to bring believers to maturity and usefulness. Coming from an Anabaptist perspective, with its years of devotion to the concept of the Body of Christ and a dedication to the integrity of Scripture, Transforming the Believer teaches how to cooperate with transformation as you trust in Godâ€™s will. Using an ancient process where men sow seed, gather a harvest, separate the tares from the wheat, thresh, sift, mill, add oil, and bake in the oven, the author draws the lesson where we can see how God also takes raw material and forms a son or daughter of heaven. Transforming the Believer goes beyond criticism to provide an answer to the errors of the Charismatic Movement. See how sacrifice differs from obedience, and learn of the dangers of preaching a Jesus who never was a man.

Paul urged other believers to â€œimitate me, just as I also imitate Christâ€• (1 Corinthians . Christianity is a lifetime of overcoming and growingâ€” of transforming our. In the beginning, man was made in the image and likeness of God, but sin came in and as the consequence that image has been defaced and that likeness. Romans and 2 Corinthians help us see what transformation means for us as Christian. So what does it mean for us as believers to be transformed?.

Throughout our life, God is transforming us to be increasingly like Jesusâ€™ His Spirit residing within helps us to combat sin and teaches us how. The transformation was dramatic; she looked like a different person. All it took was To the contrary, the experience of many believers looks like this: Commit. Transformation of a believer's character will be evidenced by responding to the demands and events of life in the same character and manner.
